PHILADELPHIA (A)-Three ranking fire department officers were killed and 24 other firemen and policemen injured today in an odd explosion confined entirely to the rear yard of a North Philadelphia chemical manufacturing plant.

The violent blast, without any fire, occurred minutes after a telephoned warning summoned the fire company to investigate the source of escaping fumes, thought to be ammonia.

A 15-foot-high steel tank mounted on a wooden platform in one corner of the yard exploded without warning as firemen searched for the source of the fumes.

So powerful was the explosion that it threw the firemen, and several policemen who stood nearby, with terrific force against two 25-foot-high brick walls enclosing Breaks Parole the yard.

Rescuers found the dead and injured lying grotesquely on the ground. The steel tank was torn in pieces. Several windows in nearby buildings were shattered. Killed were Deputy Fire Chief Thomas Kline, and Battalion Chiefs John J. News and John P.

The firemen, led by News, were called to the two-story Charles W. Berg Laboratories plant building at 5:55 a. m. Outwardly, there appeared to be no sign of trouble. The blast came 10 minutes later.

Prank With Pisto! Kills High School Player In Detroit

DETROIT (A)-Raymond Raines, 18, a Detroit Central High School basketball player, was fatally wounded Wednesday night as the result of a teen-aged prank with a supposedly unloaded pistol.

Police said Spencer Edwards, 16, admitted he pointed the pistol at Raines and pulled the trigger "to scare him," unaware that the gun was loaded.

The shooting occurred in the No Open Season had gone to practice basketball. Police said Edwards told them he had been carrying the pistol as protection against a teen-age gang that had threatened him. David McNeal, 16, told officers he had taken the pistol from a vation Department insisted today vacant house several weeks ago and given it to Edwards.

Two of us may just as well stand at opposite ends of a room and throw needles at each other, and hope that sometimes the needles may collide."

Secretary Talbott reported that the massive destructive capability of modern-day bombardment aircraft staggers the imagination.

"One bomber, manned with one crew, carrying one bomb load, can do more in one mission than the entire Air Force was capable of during World War II," the secretary emphasized.

The big job is to hold these men in the Air Force after they have been trained, Talbott said. He explained that the Air Force feels that it is reaconable to expect 50% to 60% of the volunteer enlistees to re-enlist at the end of their first four-year hitch. He explained, however, that the percentage of re-enlistees is actually running under 30%.

Dog Takes Subway And Holds Up Train

NEW YORK (A) -Suppose you were a subway motorman and you saw a large, shaggy dog loping leisurely along the tracks as you pulled out of a station?

You'd probably do just what Morace G. Belton did: He blew the train's shrill whistle. The dog stopped and sat down and Belton slammed on the brakes. This went on Wednesday for two miles and 14 rest periods - for the dog, mostly of Irish terrier extraction - on the run between the Brighton Beach station and the 34th Street station in Brooklyn.

At 34th Street a platform guard enticed "Rover" from the tracks.

Talbott Sidelights

Much excitement centered around the landing here yesterday of the huge 80,000-pound-plus Constellation which carried Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott and party . . . Thanks to reversible propellers applied at the midway point on the 3,800-foot runway, the big Air

Col. G. H. Van Deusen, a former resident of Ironwood in Upper Michigan, said the Constellation actually could land on a shorter strip than could his B-17 without reversible propellers ... The B-17, also a four-motor plane, created quite a furore when it landed at about 3:50 because the reception committee was not at hand and all concerned thought sure this was the Talbott

However, the Constellation with Talbott and party aboard did not arrive until 5:25 against a rescheduled 4:45 expected arrival time, and by that time all the local dignitaries were on hand . . . ### Words, Wit & Wisdom possible.

By William Morris

"I was very much surprised to find in the writings of one of our most notable naval historians, Samuel Eliot Morison, the following sentence: 'Eight knots an hour is considered good speed for an America's cup race of thirty miles.' Isn't the phrase 'knots an hour' redundant?" asks a Boston correspondent.

Most assuredly it is! Since the nautical term "knot" is defined as "a unit of speed equal to one nautical mile per hour," this sentence literally says, "eight nauticalmiles-per--hour an hour is considered good owls screech their eerie tales of warning. speed . . ." and the second "an hour" is clearly superfluous.

PARIS-The accords which were signed n Paris on Saturday are a provisional system meant to last for a rather long period of time. These agreements have been years in the making. They would not have been necessary, and indeed they would not have been possible, had the Soviet Union ever come forward with a serious offer about German reunification.

The fact is that Mr. Molotov has never provided sufficiently genuine terms of negotiation to feed the opposition to German rearmament within the Atlantic Alter another. #### MOLOTOV WANTS DELAY

Not only the substance but the timing support the view that Mr. Molotov wants to confer but not negotiate. "The rejection by the French National Assembly of the EDC treaty opened possibilities," he says, "for bringing closer the position of the four powers on the question of the reunion of Germany and the holding of free all-German elections." Why, then, did Mr. Molotov allow nearly two months to pass without exploring any of these possibilities? Why did he do nothing about them until the afternoon of the signing of the accords which are a substitute for EDC? And why even then did he offer nothing more than to hold another conference?

Was it not because he thought that the failure of EDC meant a long period of time during which nothing could be agreed to in the West, when it would not be necessary for him to do anything, when therefore he could let matters drift? He was not much interested even in talking about this terrible truth: The U.S. po-German unity until, to his evident sur- sition in the Orient is near bankprise, the new agreements were reached ruptcy. in London.

Our answer cannot and should not be a refusal to talk. It should be a request for talks through diplomatic channels in order to determine whether any basis for negotiation can be found. # Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

(This is one of a series of columns written by Peter Edson during his vacation in Italy) ROME, Italy—(NEA) American baseball is beginning to take hold in Italy. It landed with the Yanks at Anzio and Salerno during the war. G. I. teams played the game on rubble-cleared diamonds after the Italian kids-war orphans and camp followers-began to serve as bat boys and then to imitate the American soldiers, who had befriended them, by playing the game themselves. Or trying to.

Germans were driven out.

Gradually the game caught on. So much so that last summer there were 80 teams playing in Italy. And there were two leagues of amateur teams in the principal cities, playing a regular once-or-twice-a-week schedule

Rome has two teams. Cities like Milan, Bologna, Trieste, Florence, Genoa and Anzio-where the game started-have regular teams in the field. They draw 5000 or so spectators at 300 lira-roughly 50 cents ad-

The whole sport is now organized into an Italian Baseball Federation, with Prince Steno Borghese as its head. He has never played himself, but his name gives the game prestige.

REALLY TO BECOME established, however, baseball in Italy may need some better financing to purchase gloves, bats, spiked shoes, uniforms and particularly balls. Their cost is almost prohibitive to the average Italian. The game isn't like soccer, which requires only one ball in the way of

In an effort to have the game spread all over Italy as a further bond with America, U. S. government officials this year have made appeals to professional teams in this country to donate their castoff equipment to the Italians.

It is the hard-ball game that the Italians are playing, not softball. The quality of the playing still isn't very good. "It's about like the quality of American soccer," one official explains.

Italian youngsters don't learn to throw. naturally, the way American youngsters do. And the Italians can't bat. They are stiff at the wrists, and they swing with a bat the way they're supposed to swing a golf club.

AMERICANS COACH THE Italian teams, but the Italian Federation rule is that not more than two Americans may play on any Italian team. No American is allowed to pitch. Frank Dennis, U. S. Information Agency chief for Italy, now being transferred back to Washington, tried to interest a few American colleges in sending over some of their baseball stars as coaches for a season. But he had no success.

One thing that Dennis did do to promote the game in Italy was to have a documentary film on baseball made in America. U. S. big-league stars of Italian extraction like Phil Rizzuto, Joe DiMaggio, Vic Raschi and Yoggi Berra demonstrated in slow motion their tricks on batting, fielding, base running and sliding. None of them could speak in Italian ,much, but a dubbedin Italian sound track partially overcame that deficiency. The film has had a wide run. Introduction of American baseball into Italy may also have helped the U.S. embassy in Rome solve one of its problems on what to do to celebrate the Fourth of July. The old diplomatic custom all over the world has been to hold a cocktail party or a reception, inviting in all the diplomatic corps free-loaders.

THIS YEAR. THE U. S. embassy in Rome invited them all to a baseball game. An all-star Italian team was matched against an American military team from Naples. The Italians were allowed to run in still laughs at the recently signed a U. S. pitcher, just to make it a better

> The Italians played a good game, and though they were defeated 6-2, the event was considered so socially successful that it may be repeated annually.

> While the umpiring of the Italians has been surprisingly good, the quality of the Italian sports reporting on baseball games has provided a number of chuckles. "Corriere del Sport," a Rome publication specializing in such things, devoted a lot of space recently to an 11-inning game between two Italian teams, in which only three hits were allowed. It was really a thrilling, tight game. "Corriere's" reporter closed his story with this dramatic touch, freely translated:

"And so at last, while the sun sets beyond the western hills, nothing has been accomplished. It will all have to be done over again some other day. The score was nothing to nothing."

of bread from every 50-lb. sack of KING MIDAS

HERE'S HOW! The King Midas recipe calls for only 10 cups of flour to make 4 loaves of bread.* Recipes recommended by most other leading flours call for 12 cups or more. Allow a half cup per batch for kneading, and you'll get 76 loaves of bread from 50 pounds of King Midas-only 64 loaves from most other flours. That's an extra dozen plump, delicious loaves of bread from every 50 pounds of King Midas.

HERE'S WHY! King Midas is milled from costly premium wheats which make it extra rich in protein and give it extraordinary baking strength. Because it goes so much farther, King Midas costs you less to use than lower-priced, lower-protein flour.

OUR GUARANTEE TO YOU

Try King Midas flour. If you don't agree that it gives you delicious bread-and more loaves of it-we'll gladly refund the purchase price of your King Midas.

Law To Be Revised On Railway Crossing Signal Maintenance

LANSING (A)-Representatives of railroads and state government drafted a legislative bill which would validate an illegal, 20-yearold division of costs for railroad crossing signals.

The law requires the city, state or county to share with the railroads the cost of installing flashing signals and then pay $10 a month to the railroads for each flasher for maintenance. But the attorney general's office discovered that for 20 years the government units have been paying for the maintenance. Deputy Atty. Gen. Arthur T. Iverson said no more such contracts would be approved by his office until the law is changed.

State May Tighten Up On Exhibits Of Wild Animals

LANSING (A) — If game experts of the State Conservation Department have their way the state will tighten the regulation of wild animal and hind exhibits in Minking mal and bird exhibits in Michigan.

The staff filed recommendations for new regulations with the Conservation Commission to be considered at its Nov. 4-5 meeting at Higgins Lake.

J. H. Stephenson, assistant chief of the game division, said the new regulations were designed to clean up "eyesore" wild animal exhibits along the highways, provide greater protection for the public and improve sanitation.

He said several persons have been injured by caged bears at exhibits in northern Michigan.

The proposed regulations would fix minimum floor spaces for different types of animal cages, specify much stronger materials for cages and fences and require a sturdy fence to keep the public away from cages.

Police Reports Used As Towel

SUFFOLK, Va. (A)— Tilton Menry Hobbs told Judge W. W. Jones that he tore up State Trooper P. B. Marlowe's accident investigation book "to wipe my hands."

The ripping occurred when Marlowe, who had arrested Hobbs earlier, left his car for a few minutes. Judge Jones fined Hobbs $50 for using as a towel the record book, which contained reports for two months.

Work Started On Water Line

Laying of 4-inch water main on Center St. was begun by city crews Wednesday and 180 feet were laid. The special assessment project, ordered at the meeting of the City Council this week, calls for 482 feet of main east of Alger St. The line will serve 12 lots and seven residents in the area. Six of the residents have been without city water, City Manager Orson Livermore reported.

Work on the water line is slated to be completed this week. Crews are digging to a depth of five feet to lay it. City workers this week also completed installation of sewer line in the alley along Arbutus. Backfill has been placed over the line as it crosses Walnut, to reopen the street to traffic. Black top will be put on later, Livermore stated and crushed rock will be laid over the section in

School Principal, is leaving Friday for Ann Arbor to attend a meeting of the board of directors for the Michigan High School Foren- Bowling Notes

While there he will present a report on speech activities in Upper Michigan schools. The report was prepared by a committee consisting of Hall, Marvin Frederickson of Manistique and Ben Renz Olson reports the speech festival planned in Upper Michigan yearly for the past five years is called the "Upper Peninsula experiment." Competitive speaking has been eliminated and students now work for ratings of superior, excellent, and so on, he explained.

This has resulted in broader participation in forensic activities, the principal noted. In Manistique High School, he pointed out, 10 per cent of the student body now trys out for speech work.

To the People of Schoolcraft County:

Now that the campaign is drawing to a close, Mrs. Lindquist and I wish to express to you our appreciation for the many favors and courtesies that have been shown us by the people of Schoolcraft County.

Not only state-wide, but nationwide, we in the Upper Peninsula are known for our friendliness toward strangers in our midst. Mrs. Lindquist and I came to Schoolcraft County as strangers to begin my campaign for the office of State Representative. It was impossible to meet all the people in such a short time but we enjoyed every minute of the time we spent there. Whenever we left Manistique to go home, we planned on coming back as soon as possible. and we have now definitely decided to spend more time in Schoolcraft County in the future.

We enjoyed Manistique and its environs

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL-Via the Marquette Mining Journal comes a tale of a baseball bet paid off recently . . . Arvid Aho and Joel Hytinen of Trenary make their American League picks on May 2 . . . Aho picked the Yanks while Hytinen chose the Indians . . . Aho, on the terms of the bet, pushed a bushel of potatoes into Trenary on a wheel-barrow and then auctioned off the spuds, one at a time, for a total of $70 . . . The 70 bucks, it says, went for refreshments.

Here's how the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves championship tournament will be run off here . . . Preliminaries will be staged on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1, and on Feb. 7 the finals will be presented to determine the U. P. team to fight in the Milwaukee Journal tournament on Feb. 15 . . . If there are not enough fighters entered to make the show a three-night affair, the preliminaries will be held Jan. 31 and the finals Feb. 7, still splitting up the tournament into two weeks . . . It is expected, however, that this year's entry list will be one of the largest in history.

The Michigan Tech hockey schedule lists a game on Dec. 11 against the Escanaba Hawks, defending Northern Michigan League champs, at Dee Stadium . . . Michigan Tech has a 25game schedule with 12 home games listed.

Food Costs Up Again This Week

NEW YORK (A)-Wholesale food costs as measured by Dun & Bradstreet moved up sharply this week, recovering all the ground lost in lour successive weeks of decline.

At $6.71 the Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index for the week ended Tuesday was up 1.8 per cent from the previous figure of $6.59 and back to where it was Sept. 28 when the recent decline

The latest index was 3.4 per cent higher than the $6.49 reported at the same time last year.

Seventeen components of the index moved higher, including flour, wheat, oats, hams, lards, coffee, cottonseed oil, tea, cocoa, eggs, potatoes rice, currents, steers

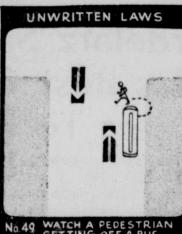

Only four were lower in price: corn rye, barley and butter. The index represents the total cost at wholesale of 31 commonly used market-basket items.

WATCH A PEDESTRIAN GETTING OFF A BUS

When you see a bus ahead on your right stopping to let off passengers, slow down and watch out as you go by. The front end of the bus is a "perfect" hiding place for a pedestrian. He can pop out from behind it in nothing flat.

A stopped bus should ring an alarm in the mind of the motorist just as a frontiers-man is alerted when he approached a large tree trunk, which might hide an Indian on the war path.

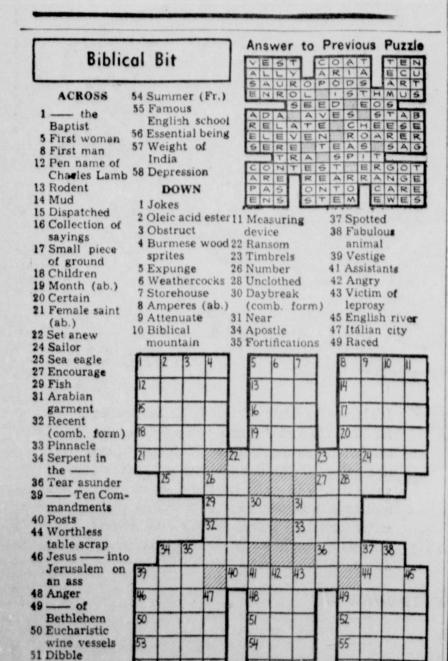

"Accident-free" motorists are those who have made a specialty of spotting favorite hiding places of pedestrians and thus are able to slow down in time so they can stop in time.
